PATON

Mrs. Paton was the widow of Ed. D. Paton, for years County Clerk of Bourbon county, and one of the best-known men in public life in the State. When quite a young woman she came to Paris, and located, opening a hair-dressing establishment, which she conducted successfully for many years. Moving to a new location she opened a beauty parlor, which business prospered under her care, among her patrons being many well-known women from other counties. She was a woman of fine character and generous impulses, whose friends were numerous and who esteemed her highly.

Mrs. Paton is survived by one son, County Clerk Pearce Paton, one daughter, Mrs. Percy C. Reed, and one grandson, Ed. Drane Paton, all of Paris.

American Legion

THE NEWS is in receipt of a letter from Mr. George T. Anderson, of Louisville, State Educational Supervisor, in regard to an educational fund which has been set aside for the benefit of former service men. In the letter Mr. Anderson says, in part:

"All of the Y. M. C. A. funds which were set aside for ex-service men to use in getting a general scholarship or collegiate scholarship have been expended, but the National Council has set aside an additional amount and portioned it out to the various States to be used for ex-service men who desire to take a correspondence course.

"Therefore I feel that you would be interested in publishing this in your paper so that notice of accepting this assistance in taking a correspondence course in the United Y. M. C. A. Extension School.

"The educational service fund will furnish one-half of the cost of any course which a man may desire to take in the school. Up to an amount not exceeding $67.50, which is 50% of the highest price course. Or if he desired to take more than one course the total of which would not exceed $67.50 for half the entire course.

"Anyone who is interested is requested to write to my office and more information and details will immediately be sent to him.

"These are very fine and popular courses and applications are already beginning to come in and we shall proceed on the basis of first come first served, as long as this fund lasts.

"I am sure that you can render a real service to ex-service men by putting an announcement regarding this matter in your paper so as to bring it to their attention."

To put 700,000 ex-soldiers into jobs is the American Legion's immediate objective according to an announcement from Legion National headquarters. To accomplish this, a nationwide drive will be launched from local posts in every city and town in the country on March 20, and employers and business men will be called into conference to devise ways and means of creating jobs and putting an end to a situation which Hanford MacNeider, Legion Commander, has called "the greatest crisis in the Legion's history."

Civic organizations from Maine to California have been asked to swing into line to back up the Legion and make a concerted effort which will be felt in all sections of the country. By stimulating industry, by pushing engineering projects and municipal development, by speeding up public utility enterprise, roadbuilding, paving, dredging, truck grading, reforestation and reclamation, and by encouraging the "back-to-the-farm" movement, the Legion hopes to break the labor slump which has kept worthy men out of work and caused widespread distress. Each city will be divided into regions, each under its own post and employment committee, with a general committee co-ordinating the efforts of all.

LIGHTNING KILLS HORSE, AND INJURES ANOTHER

During the brilliant display of electricity which prevailed in the storm of Friday night, lightning struck a barn on the farm of Ed. F. Prichard, near Paris, killing one horse instantly and badly injuring another. The barn was uninjured, save for a large timber, which was splintered. A piece of wood about fifteen inches in length, was hurled across the barn and driven into a piece of timber, to a depth of two inches.

The horse which was killed was struck while eating from a trough, and remained in a standing position with his mouth deep in the feed.

CINCINNATI RETAIL MERCHANTS OPENING THIS WEEK

Creations from Paris, dresses made in America, that more than favorably compared with the trousseau we have been reading about for Princess Mary, will be shown in Cincinnati this week.

In fact, the merchants have outdone themselves to bid for the favours of our women folks for their spring bonnets, coats, dresses, etc., and the fashions are so alluring and the prices so attractive that the Mayor himself has issued a proclamation setting aside the two days of March 14th and 15th as official Spring Opening days; days on which the well-known hospitality of the Queen City will be expressed by thoughts, words, deeds. They have gone so far as to provide free parking space for those who come in automobiles.

The Mayor's proclamation is as follows:

"Most heartily do I approve of the Cincinnati Retail Merchants' Association to call the attention of our own people and of our friends and neighbors in adjoining States to certain dates of the coming week for a general Spring Opening of Cincinnati's retail business.

"I, therefore, proclaim that Tuesday and Wednesday, March 14 and 15, 1922, be observed by all of our citizens as 'Cincinnati's Spring Opening Days.'

"That our business concerns make preparation for entertaining their friends and customers with displays of goods in their most attractive forms, and that our citizens generally let the people of the Middle West understand that the Queen City is ready to put her retail stores on record on the dates above mentioned. The gates of the city will be wide open, both to those who would do business with us and to those who would have us do business with them.
